Psychiatric Residential Treatment

Sexual abusive and Sexually Reactive-Treatment is based on Rational Behavior training methods along with elements of Cognitive-Behavioral theory, to assist individuals in changing their thinking patterns, emotions and behavioral responses.

The Cognitive Delayed Program is designed to meet the needs of developmentally delayed youth with sexually abusive behaviors, who because of their unique functional deficits often get lost in the mix of other programs designed for youth with higher level developmental issues. This program allows for higher staff to resident ratios allow for a warmer environment that accommodates for individual needs while maintaining a safe environment. This program is for males between the ages of 14-18 with IQ's ranging from 50-70.
